

First Cobalt Applies for Removal from the ASX

TORONTO, ON — (May 2, 2019) – First Cobalt Corp. (TSX-V: FCC; ASX: FCC; OTCQX: FTSSF) (the "Company" - https://www.commodity-tv.net/c/search_adv/?v=298892) today announces it has applied to the Australian Securities Exchange (the "ASX") for the removal of the Company from the official list of the ASX under ASX Listing Rule 17.11. Subject to ASX approval, the Company expects that trading in First Cobalt's CHESS Depository Interests ("CDIs") will be suspended on the ASX on or around the close of trading on June 13, 2019 and the delisting will take place on or around June 20, 2019.

The Company is currently listed on two securities exchanges – the ASX and the TSX Venture Exchange (the "TSX-V"). Following the expected delisting from the official list of the ASX, First Cobalt will be removed from the official list of the ASX and its CDIs will no longer be tradeable on the ASX.

The Company's common shares will remain listed on the TSX-V under the ticker FCC and will also continue to trade on the OTCQX[®] Best Market under the ticker FTSSF.

Reasons for Voluntary Delisting

First Cobalt is proposing to delist from the official list of the ASX for the following reasons:

- comparatively low average daily trading volume of the Company's securities listed on ASX relative to the TSX-V;
- given the register of CDIs is tightly held, First Cobalt has experienced difficulty in raising additional capital either from new or existing shareholders on the Australian register; and
- First Cobalt is based in North America and does not have any interests in any Australian cobalt projects or any material Australian business operations.

First Cobalt considers the financial, administrative and compliance obligations and costs associated with an ASX listing, including the higher level of regulatory compliance costs associated with a dual listing, noting that there are a number of material differences between the TSX-V listing rules and the ASX listing rules, unjustifiable and not in the best interests of First Cobalt security holders.

Shareholder Information Pack

An information pack setting out further details in relation to the delisting, including details of a voluntary sale facility which will operate for at least two months after the delisting date, will be published on the ASX and sent to CDI holders shortly after First Cobalt receives formal delisting approval from the ASX.

About First Cobalt

First Cobalt is a Canadian-based pure-play cobalt company and owner of the only permitted primary cobalt refinery in North America. The Company is exploring a restart of the First Cobalt Refinery in Ontario, Canada, which could produce 2,000 tonnes of cobalt sulfate or metallic cobalt per year. First Cobalt's main cobalt project is the Iron Creek Cobalt Project in Idaho, USA, which has Inferred mineral resources of 26.9 million tonnes grading 0.11% cobalt equivalent, or an alternative underground-only scenario of 4.4 million tonnes grading 0.3% cobalt equivalent.

Cautionary Note Regarding Estimates of Resources

Readers are cautioned that mineral resources are not economic mineral reserves and that the economic viability of resources that are not mineral reserves has not been demonstrated. The estimate of mineral resources may be materially affected by geology, environmental, permitting, legal, title, socio-political, marketing or other relevant issues. The mineral resource estimate is classified in accordance with the Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum's "2014 CIM Definition Standards on Mineral Resources and Mineral Reserves" incorporated by reference into NI 43-101. Under Canadian rules, estimates of inferred mineral resources may not form the basis of feasibility or pre-feasibility studies or economic studies except for Preliminary Economic Assessment as defined under NI 43-101. Readers are cautioned not to assume that further work on the stated resources will lead to mineral reserves that can be mined economically. An Inferred Mineral Resource as defined by the CIM Standing Committee is "that part of a Mineral Resource for which quantity and grade or quality are estimated on the basis of limited geological evidence and sampling. Geological evidence is sufficient to imply but not verify geological and grade or quality continuity. An Inferred Mineral Resource has a lower level of confidence than that applying to an Indicated Mineral Resource and must not be converted to a Mineral Reserve. It is reasonably expected that the majority of Inferred Mineral Resources could be upgraded to Indicated Mineral Resources with continued exploration."

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This news release may contain forward-looking statements and forward-looking information (together, "forward-looking statements") within the meaning of applicable securities laws and the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All statements, other than statements of historical facts, are forward-looking statements. Generally, forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of terminology such as "plans", "expects", "estimates", "intends", "anticipates", "believes" or variations of such words, or statements that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might", "occur" or "be achieved". Forward-looking statements involve risks, uncertainties and other factors that could cause actual results, performance and opportunities to differ materially from those implied by such forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from these forward-looking statements are set forth in the management discussion and analysis and other disclosures of risk factors for First Cobalt, filed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. Although First Cobalt believes that the information and assumptions used in preparing the forward-looking statements are reasonable, undue reliance should not be placed on these statements, which only apply as of the date of this news release, and no assurance can be given that such events will occur in the disclosed time frames or at all. Except where required by applicable law, First Cobalt disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
